Welcome Friends and Families of JWPOSD,

At JWPOSD we “Leave Nothing To Chance” when it comes to the education of the children in our program. With today’s amazing technology and our outstanding and highly trained staff, we are seeing unprecedented results in the language and listening skills of very young children who are deaf or hard of hearing. Babies are being identified and fit with appropriate hearing aids and many receive their cochlear implants before their first birthday, giving them the earliest possible access to sound. This new trend in serving a younger population of children has galvanized the staff to find new and innovative ways to meet the educational needs of our students and their families.

Tonight, we welcome everyone to enjoy an evening filled with the fun of a game we all know so well where we can “wheel and deal,” buy a hotel or railroad, and stay out of jail, but this time the rewards from the “Community Chest” will transform the lives of every child at JWPOSD. The magic from this Benefit Gala 2010 is that all of the proceeds will be matched dollar for dollar from a private family foundation.

Our mission is to prepare each child to develop spoken language through the use of state of the art auditory technology, via an auditory-oral, cognitive based program which helps them to become effective learners and prepares them for successful integration into their mainstream school to learn with their peers.

Families at JWPOSD have chosen this auditory-oral program and travel daily from every corner of the Bay Area and beyond. We serve children from 16 different school districts, who recognize our school as a center of excellence in oral deaf education, as well as train teachers and other professionals from around California, the United States and internationally. We could not do this work without the support of our families and friends. Tonight is a reflection of that very special commitment to the future for every deaf and hard of hearing child who comes through our doors. Thank you for being a part of giving the gift of spoken language to our deaf and hard of hearing children... it is a gift for a lifetime!

"Beautiful and graceful, varied and enchanting, small but approachable, butterflies lead you to the sunny side of life. And everyone deserves a little sunshine."

Each adjective in this quote by Dr. Jeffrey Glassburg reminds us of the amazing kids in Vicki's class. Last year Reese, Alan, Sunnan, and Alvero were but caterpillars waiting for their time to blossom in their quest for speech and language. This year, these children, joined by their adorable classmates Adrienne and Julietta, have truly broken out of their cocoons. We find that these young butterflies are every bit as magnificent and enchanting as the stained glass mosaic they have skillfully created. Enjoy a little piece of the wonder and enthusiasm that is such a part of these unique little butterflies every time you look at this marvelous piece of artwork. MARSHA BOYES
June 15, 1961–July 4, 2010

Join us in honoring the memory of Marsha Boyes—our friend, alumni parent and JW employee extraordinaire.

Marsha first arrived at JW in 1989 as a mother to Ross, a young deaf boy in need of our help. Marsha moved her life to the Bay Area to help her son, and here found a home.

Marsha was always striving to educate and better herself and wanted the same for her children. Marsha was never one to take the obvious path. Her life was about blazing new trails, trying new things and discovering new ideas.

During her time at JW, it was Marsha who always raised the bar high, imagined the impossible and helped to make dreams come true for our students.
